- Control invading Bermuda grass and other grassy weeds with one of the contact herbicides for grassy weeds. Products such as Fusilade, Poast, Grass-be Gone, Over the Top, and Ornamec when applied to actively growing grassy weeds will kill the tops and roots if the label instructions are followed.
- Fire ants in vegetable gardens can be controlled with products with Spinosad as the active ingredient and authorized for the use on the label.
- One of the best ways to meet the needs of birds in your landscape is to provide water in a bird bath. Rinse and refill the bath every day. Improve its attracting power by including a recirculating pump.
- It is best to pull your tomato plants from the spring before they become infested with spider mites and fungus diseases. Plant the fall tomatoes in late July.
